

DISTRICT JUDGES CHOSEN TOMORROW

Convention for This Judicial District Meets in Salt Lake at 9 o'clock.

TWO DARK HORSES APPEAR.

They Are in the Form of Candidates For One Position on Bench and District Attorneyship.

That politics which came out of obscurity for the earliest opening the state has known, is not destined to retire again until the counting of the November ballots, is the indication of developing situations.

Yesterday the Republicans breathed easy a moment after settling the question of who should cast ballots at Chicago, and today they are busy for tomorrow's battle.

This has to do with the nomination of four candidates for the district bench, and the convention will assemble with a voting strength of 149 delegates in the court rooms of Judge Ritchie at 9 o'clock a. m.

Besides this convention two Democratic conventions are due within the next few weeks as well as an "American" party convention if the organization decides to put a judicial ticket in the field.

LEADING CANDIDATES.

The leading candidates for tomorrow's meeting are the four judges now on the bench, Morse, Ritchie, Lewis and Armstrong. The latter was busy fixing his fences in the city court yesterday afternoon, while an outside candidate was also busy. This was Judge Whitaker of the civil division of the city court, and while his friends declare he is opposing neither Lewis nor Armstrong, still it is against them that his strength is being exerted.

So far all candidates appear to be united on Morse and Ritchie, and no fight is expected on either.

A feature of the convention is that although there are only 149 votes, it will probably require 120 to elect, as each delegate will have four votes, and a majority is necessary to elect in case of five candidates they could all break even at about 120 votes and prevent an election until some one candidate's forces are broken.

DISTRICT ATTORNEYSHIP.

Job Lyon has made a hard fight for votes against Fred C. Looftbourne for the district attorneyship and H. A. Smith is also coming forward for this position.

Just what strength these candidates can pull against Mr. Looftbourne will not develop until tomorrow, and when the question of this office, and that of whether Judge Whitaker is to receive a position on the quarter of district judges will be the center of interest in the day's work.

It is thought that two sessions will be necessary, one to perfect the organization in the morning and another to do the voting in the afternoon. Stanley Price is chairman, holding this position since the last judicial convention four years ago. He, however, will merely call the session to order, and the officers selected will take charge of the day's proceedings. Delegates to the convention come from Salt Lake, Summit and Tooele counties.

RELINQUISHES RIGHT-OF-WAY.

The secretary of the state land board yesterday received a communication from the officials of the Sevier Valley Railway company in Denver, in which they relinquish their right-of-way through the tract on which the land board proposes to build the pig reservoir for which the sum of $250,000 was recently set aside. The railroad relies upon the assistance of the land board in facilitating the construction of a line through that part of the country.

WATCH DISAPPEARS.

Mrs. Sherwood, residing at No. 8 Brown street, reported the police this morning that a lady's gold open-faced watch was stolen from her apartments yesterday. The police have a description of the time-piece and are trying to locate it.

DAILY MAKES DISCOVERY.

Asst. City Atty. P. J. Daly is of the opinion that the Utah Light & Railway company is exempt from paying a license fee of $25 for its cars in service on the street railway. This interesting condition has been brought to light by the attempt of the license assessor, S. L. L. L., to assess the street railway company for its cars. In order to increase the revenues of the municipality, up to the present year the company has been paying a nominal license for its cars, but it now transpires, according to the opinion of the assistant city attorney, that the franchise granted to the company by the council recently releases the company from the provisions of the license ordinance, and the company refused to pay the increased license demanded by the assessor.

The fact was discovered some time ago that the ordinance granting the street railway franchise to the company did not contain any provision compelling the company to issue transfers.

ON WILD GOOSE CHASE.

Senator Bamberger and Supt. Park Pass Each Other Unaware.

Because Senator Bamberger of the Salt Lake & Ogden thought Supt. W. L. Park of the Union Pacific was in Ogden, and the latter thought the former was in Salt Lake, both started out to meet each other yesterday. Of course, they passed each other about midway between this and the Junction city. Upon reaching Ogden, Senator Bamberger found out Supt. Park had come to Salt Lake and upon reaching Salt Lake Supt. Park discovered Senator Bamberger had gone to Ogden. Finally telephone and telegraph wires located Supt. Park in this city and he waited until Senator Bamberger came back. Then a conference on crossing matters was held. Both men will go over the ground today and an agreement will probably be reached.

A telegram received this morning at the office of the first presidency announces the safe arrival at Queens-town of the ship Southwark of the Dominion line. Among the passengers were:

COMBINED CONVENTION.

Teachers in Church Schools and Religion Classes to Unite.

All the teachers in the Latter-day Saints' schools and Religion classes are expected to meet in this city in a combined conference beginning June 4 and continuing five days. A program of exercises and discussions has been prepared with a view to emphasizing the religious and scientific and historical training of the young. And since the Religion classes from their beginning have been a part of the Church school system, efforts will be made to bring the two lines of work into closer and more helpful relations.

Method of teaching the Book of Mormon, Old and New Testament and Church History; of making revealed truth correlate with scientific and historical truth, and of guardian work for the youngest children, besides public lectures and exercises by well known speakers are all provided for. Nor is the social side neglected. There will be a reception of delegates at the hotel, and an excursion to Wandamere. The exercises of the program will be interspersed with the choicest music furnished by Church schools, and altogether a profitable and enjoyable time is anticipated.

Meals will be secured from all the railroads, and there will no doubt be a large attendance. A committee on entertainment will aid in the work, and the teachers in securing accommodations during the conference, and no pains will be spared in making the event happy and useful. Printed programs are being mailed to all workers in Church schools and Religion classes.

RIOT NEAR SHOPS.

Strikers and Strike Breakers Use Revolvers in Conflict.

There was a riot call at police headquarters last night from the vicinity of the Rio Grande shops caused by a fight between strikers and strikebreakers and as a result S. S. Rochester, E. McCarthy, E. E. and G. J. Miller were arrested and lodged in the city jail on the charge of assaulting Thomas Jones and John Bailey. The men arrested are said to be strikebreakers, while the two men who were assaulted are union men on strike. The riot was caused by the head with a revolver during the fight.

Officers Carlson, Brown and Ripley went to the scene of conflict and the participants scattered in every direction. The four men were captured after a spirited chase, and after a shot was fired to scare them.

Fraternal Greeting Issued By Old Folks' Central Committee

The old folks' committee have noted with much pleasure that the beautiful practice of doing honor to the aged is being extensively adopted throughout the land and that local old folks committees have been appointed in nearly all the stakes of Zion and in most of the larger wards and branches of the Church, both at home and abroad, for the purpose of arranging old folks excursions, festivals and theatricals and providing such other amusements as may be deemed expedient and timely.

Having had years of experience in taking care of old people on festive occasions, the members of the central committee offer a few suggestions to local committees, in order to introduce uniformity in action and that general success may become a feature of all old folks' gatherings throughout the country.

Three score and ten is considered the age allotted to men generally, but only a small percentage of humanity born into the world reach that age; hence, those few who do, and who live beyond, should become special objects of esteem and honor on the part of the younger generations. With this object in view the old folks' excursions were inaugurated in Salt Lake City 33 years ago and all people over 70 years of age were invited to participate in them without respect to creed or color. It was also agreed that all persons between the ages of 70 and 80 should on festive excursions wear a red badge, and between 80 and 90 a blue badge, and all over 90 a white rosette. This rule we should like to see made universal.

It is very probable that the aged are being neglected in the distribution of prizes. The word "poor" should not be mentioned on old folks' days.

Decorations. In decorating assembly rooms the emblem of our country—the Stars and Stripes—should be in evidence. Children could be trained to do special honor to the aged on festive days. We shall never forget the beautiful sight of good veterans in evidence. Children could be trained to do special honor to the aged on festive days. We shall never forget the beautiful sight of good veterans in evidence.

Local conditions and other things must necessarily be taken into consideration in arranging old folks' festivities; but as a rule a stake excursion or outing is the best thing for the summer and the open air, and a ward festival to the winter season and a suitable hall.

The central committee earnestly recommends these suggestions to the consideration of all men and women who are interested in helping to make the aged rejoice, and that they may be able to do so. The committee is the sincere wish of your collaborators.

WOOLGROWERS MEETING

Flockmasters to Gather in the Commercial Club at 2 o'clock Tomorrow To Hear Reports.

From travelers who have been down the Price, it is learned that little wool is being sold at that point. The report is confirmed by the Eastern Utah Advocate, which says wool is being stored in warehouses, barns, backyards, and wherever there is space. Buyers have offered growers of Castle valley 11 cents per pound, but the growers "declined with thanks." Coddington & Jensen of Utah county sold for 13 cents and it is reported the wool was clean and exceptionally fine in every way. It was sheared at Verde. Leonard Brothers of Huntington set 50 shearers to work this week and with other clips yet to be made, Price and neighborhood has between 15,000 and 20,000 pounds on the back yet.

All interest centers around tomorrow's meeting of Utah wool growers. The gathering has been called for 2 o'clock tomorrow. Shepherds from this and neighboring states are urged to attend and hear Mr. Kearns and Mr. Austin tell how each wool raising state can save $1,000,000 or more by storing until fall or until a better market has been created, anyhow. The Commercial club is the place selected for the doing and every shepherd, whether a member of the Utah Wool Growers' association or not, is asked to be there and hear something decidedly to his advantage.

As no end of responses have been received, a big crowd is expected and a rousing meeting anticipated.

CIT FILES SUIT AGAINST CANAL CO.

East Jordan Irrigation Company Is Made Defendant in Action in District Court.

TO CONDEMN RIGHT OF WAY.

So As to Compel Owners of Big Ditch To Carry City Water from Utah Lake.

The controversy between the city and the East Jordan Irrigation company was brought to an issue this morning by the filing in the Third district court of an action to compel the irrigation company to permit the waters of Utah lake belonging to the city to flow through the canal belonging to the company, when the same is not in use. The suit is entitled Salt Lake City, a municipal corporation, vs. the East Jordan Irrigation company, and the city, after reciting the facts of the controversy in a lengthy complaint, asks for judgment as follows:

Plaintiff demands judgment that it have perpetual right-of-way and easement for the diversion and conveying of its 184 cubic or second feet of running water, in addition to defendant's appropriations, through the canal of the defendant, as herein described, and shown by map exhibit A hereto annexed; that it be permitted to enlarge the said canal to the capacity of 200 cubic feet, or either, and by lining the same with cement, and that damages, if any, may be assessed as provided by law, and that plaintiff be paid the cost of the same, and that it be enjoined from doing any act which would interfere with the right-of-way, for the purpose of doing the necessary work, and that the rights of the respective parties herein be finally determined and adjudged.

H. J. Dinwiny and P. J. Daly appear as attorneys for the city, and J. L. Rawlins represents the irrigation company.

LINDSAY TAKES APPEAL.

David Lindsay has filed suit against the Oregon Short Line Railroad company for $250 for a suit which was brought in the local station last summer. According to the complaint, Lindsay claims he sent the case to the station by an expressman, and that it is not liable on that account, but when he came to get it, it was gone. The company claims that the expressman placed the case inside the express box, and that it is not liable on that account. The case came up before Judge Lewis in the third district court, on appeal from Judge Whitaker's court, where the judgment had been rendered in favor of the company.

KOOYMANS CONTINUED.

Another Chapter Soon to be Added to Story of Notorious Family.

The Kooymans family, or part of it, is scheduled for an early appearance in the juvenile court for the unheard-of performance on their part of disturbing the peace. Some time ago the head of the family was divorced from his wife and he afterward married his choice before the divorce was secured. But that is not the point. It is the woman divorced and her children who now figure, and when she moved to the west side of the city after the divorce had been granted, neighbors soon began to complain of the way in which the newcomers acted. Slips would be thrown in the yards of the neighbors. It is alleged, and since the divorce the conduct of the offshoot branch of the Kooymans. The troubles will be investigated and an attempt be made to straighten the matter out.

CHARGES STATUTORY OFFENSE.

Jessie Ray Dickson has filed suit for divorce from Bertram F. Dickson in the Third district court, alleging that he has committed a statutory offense several times on the charge of incest. The couple were married at Ottawa, Kan., Dec. 24, 1900. Mrs. Dickson further asks for $50 per month alimony and for the defendant be enjoined from disposing of his property during the pendency of the suit, and for costs and attorneys' fees.

HENRY IN COURT.

In Justice Dana T. Smith's court this afternoon, Joe Henry, a messenger, is having a preliminary hearing on the charge of highway robbery. Henry and Ed Brush were arrested several weeks ago on the charge of holding up a man at the rear of the Alamo saloon on Commercial street.

IN POLICE COURT.

The case of the state vs. George Russell, charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to do bodily harm to Josie Russell, was set for hearing this morning in Judge Diehl's court, but was continued without date. Russell, who is colored, struck the woman over the eye with a milk picher during a row in Franklin avenue several weeks ago. The case of the state vs. Jerry Chorn, colored, charged with shooting another negro in a Commercial street gambling house several weeks ago, was also continued without date.

DANCE AT SALT AIR.

Oregon Short Line Employees and Held's Band at the Lake Tonight.

At 8 o'clock this evening a special train will leave the Saltair depot for the lake. Each car will contain a merry bunch of young and old folks—Oregon Short Line employees, their families, wives, sweet hearts and friends. Everyone is invited to go and a good time is promised everyone who does go. Held's band of 25 pieces will be on hand, and with a long list of attractions arranged there is absolutely no danger of the "good time" promise not being kept.

Chairman Price of the committee of arrangements, says bouquets will be provided for each lady stenographer of the company, and programs containing the number and order of dances furnished. Mr. Price claims that the Short Line has the best looking stenographers of any railroad in the west.

Prince Zu Eulenberg was today placed under arrest. The crown prosecutor took this step as a result of the testimony given by two men at the prince's bedside yesterday to the effect that Prince Zu Eulenberg had been guilty of wrongful actions with them 25 years ago.

Princess Zu Eulenberg was involved in the court scandal in Berlin that grew out of the charges brought by Maximilian Harden, editor of Die Zukunft, last summer. At the second Harden trial the court declared that all the charges made by Harden were absolutely without foundation. After the termination of the Harden case the public prosecutor started proceedings against Eulenberg and the arrest of today is the outcome. The prince was taken into custody at his ambulance automobile and brought in at charity hospital, where he was detained pending a further investigation of the charge of perjury made against him.

The prince's arrest is taken to mean the irretrievable ruin of this brilliant man, who was at one time a confidential friend of Emperor William.

CAPTAIN HOBSON SOUNDS ANOTHER ALARM.

San Francisco, May 8.—Capt. Richmond Pearson Hobson, who is now in this city, is in favor of a powerful fleet of the Pacific coast. In discussing the matter yesterday he said: "The Pacific coast demands the attention of the fleet now in this harbor. It means the protection not only of the west but of the whole country. The United States can never feel safe until here on the Pacific ocean until she dominates the sea as well as the land, and domination of the sea means a fleet of such proportions that the white race need have no fears of the aggressions of the yellow race."

"The Pacific coast cannot be guarded with a few cruisers. It needs just such an armament as is now assembled in your bay, and I believe that the country is awakening to the realization that the protection west is as great a national duty as the protection of the east."
